

SEARCHED TWO YEARS

Devoted Mother Has Not Given Up Hope.

BOY GONE TWO YEARS

He Was Temperate and There Was No Explanation for His Going Away. Mother Has Traveled Many Miles.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 29.—Although a two-year search, during which she has traveled many hundred miles, has failed to reveal to Mrs. Joseph Hugel any tidings of her only son, whose disappearance in August, 1901, mystified his parents, she is to-day continuing her quest, firm in the belief that her boy will be restored to her.

Rudolph Hugel was twenty-three years old when he disappeared. He was a young man of temperate habits and devoted to his parents and to his home. Anguish has weighed heavily on the Hugels. Either the husband or wife is always at their home, at No. 232 East Twenty-second Street, in New York. If Rudolph returns the door will be open for him. Mrs. Hugel has interested several people in Buffalo and Chicago in the search.

Rudolph was employed as a clerk by Meek & Co. of University Place, when he disappeared. His employers speak of him in the highest terms. Mrs. Hugel found a note on August 1, 1901, which Rudolph had left on a dresser in his room. The note was as follows:

"I am going away. Do not feel badly or be alarmed. I will write to you soon why I have gone and whether."

Mrs. Hugel received a postal from him August 10th, which said that he had secured employment at the Hotel in Buffalo, adjoining the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition. She did not become alarmed until several months had passed and letters which both she and her husband had written to Rudolph were returned. Then she made inquiries and learned that he had left the hotel at the end of two weeks and none knew whether he had gone.

After a year had passed without receiving any word from him Mrs. Hugel drew the family savings from the bank and started for Buffalo. She visited all the hotels and the Buffalo police joined her in the search. After spending two weeks there she received word that her son might be in Chicago. She searched in Chicago a week, but failed to find her boy. The search led through Wisconsin and Michigan, whither she sent agents.

Mrs. Hugel was nearly heartbroken when she returned home and told her husband the full story. "But I am a carpenter and does not make big wages, but all he and his wife can save is being devoted to him."

"His old place is kept for him at home," said Mrs. Hugel yesterday. "We always have his chair set at the table, and sometimes, I am sure, we will hear his knock at the door."

ENGINE WORE PIN
Brooch of Woman it Killed Fastened to the Cab.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 29.—While cleaning engine No. 103 at the North White Plains yards yesterday an employee of the Harlem Railroad Company found the diamond brooch worn by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy. The pin was stuck in the boiler between the boiler and the window. The pin of the brooch was stuck into the cab nearly a foot.

Upon the back of the pin, which is round, were to be seen the initials "M. A. E." and the front was set with a diamond.

Mrs. Potter was known to have worn the diamond pin in her house on Thursday afternoon, and the police made a careful search for it in the vicinity where she was killed. It was thought that the pin was lost in the Bronx River, where Mrs. Potter was thrown by the engine.

A railroad man said that it was the strangest incident he had ever heard of in connection with death on the rail, that the front of the engine, which was such force as to impel itself in the cab of the engine, which, since killing Mrs. Potter, had made 200 station stops.

The remains of Mrs. Potter were interred in Woodlawn Cemetery yesterday.

BUFFALO BUTS CAR
Smashes the Dashboard and Headlight, but is Fatally Hurt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 29.—A buffalo bull, belonging to the Pottsville mill, which exhibited here Saturday, was being driven to the railway station from the grounds here Sunday night. It became bewildered by the headlights of a trolley car and refused to be driven by the cowboys.

In the middle of the track the buffalo stood, with eyes dilated and head lowered, ready to meet the car. The motor, which was applied to the brakes, but failed to prevent a collision. The cries of the passengers and the spectators in the crowded street, suddenly, the animal, which was charged the trolley car and landed blow after blow upon the dashboard, reducing it to splinters. The headlights were smashed, and it was destroyed.

The passengers and motorman beat a hasty retreat. Finally the cowboys succeeded in corraling the bull, but not until it had fatally injured itself.

HARGIS-CARDWELL FEUD

Young Girl Saw Man She Loved Fall Under Bullets of Another—Resulted from Curious Jett Trial.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JACKSON, Ky., June 29.—News reached here Sunday night of a fight on the edge of Breathitt county, near Daisy Dell, in which Hiram Barnett was killed and John Henry Hacker and Joseph Hacker were wounded.

The trouble grew out of the Hargis-Cardwell feud, and was over Miss Leila Burns, the pretty daughter of J. B. Burns, and a niece of Burns Fitzpatrick, a Magoffin county resident, who caused the jury to disagree in the trial of Curtis Jett and Thomas White here last week on the charge of having killed J. B. Hargis.

The men involved reside in Magoffin county, but the trouble took place in this county. The fight was on Saturday night at the home of Miss Burns, and one of them told her that John Henry Hacker, with whom she is in love, had said that her Uncle Burns Fitzpatrick had returned to Magoffin county with a fine rifle after he had blocked the jury in Jackson.

Hacker became furious and in a few minutes the young men repaired to the barn, and without delay there were a dozen shots fired. Hiram Barnett was killed and John Henry Hacker and Joseph Hacker lay on the floor desperately wounded.

Samuel and Silar Barnett, it is said, participated in the shooting, which was in the presence of the young women.

John Henry Hacker, who was shot in the stomach, will probably die. Joseph Hacker was wounded in the left shoulder. The Hackers are nephews of one of the jurymen who tried Jett and White here last week.

John H. Prentice, No. 36 Broad Street, and Honore Palmer, Chicago, to whom I have been referred, under the heading, "Some Dispositions," was the following:

"The two bags separated contain some family remembrances. I wish them to be sent to the addresses affixed on them, one for Germany, through the German Consulate, the other one through the Brazilian Legation."

"All other things to be sold and money, with balance, retained in the 25th Avenue Hotel. (There is now $131.35), after deduction of funeral and other expenses, to be sent to my brother, Mr. Heinrich, Kien, Germany. There is to be paid $5 to McIntyre and Marshall, one week's rent to Mrs. Crawford, eight weeks' rent to Mrs. Murray, and twenty cents to the landlady."

Another letter, which was not opened by the police, was directed to his brother, the Wolkoff, Kiel, Germany, as was also one of the bags. Coroner Goldenkranz viewed the bodies and directed that the bodies should be cared for until the friends should be found.

The chirography was neat, each word carefully written, and not the slightest trace of a tremor visible.—New York Herald.

LIQUOR FLASKS IN PULPIT
Minister Says His Parishioners Bought Them on Sunday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAMFORD CONN., June 29.—Rev. J. W. Cady, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, carried two flasks of whiskey Sunday night to his pulpit. The minister said that the liquor had been bought by members of his congregation early this morning.

Cady said that for the past month it had been his custom to arise between 3 and 4 A. M. on Sundays and to wander through the city. He found 80 per cent of the saloon-keepers doing business. Mr. Cady promised to disclose some startling facts after his July vacation.

HIS BRAINS SHOT OUT BY ASSASSIN

His brains were shot out by a load of buckshot. A girl nine years old and a boy of eleven were wounded.

Phillips was a respected citizen of Norway. Last Saturday he and two sons had a difficulty with two negroes. This is the only clue.

SOUGHT LIFE; FOUND DEATH

Theodore Wolkopf Ends His Own Life With Pistol.

PLANNED END CAREFULLY

Provided for Payment of Debts and for Disposition of His Property—Letters to Well-Known Men.

Entering in a letter address to the New York authorities the minutest details concerning the disposition he desired made of his few remaining possessions, Theodore Wolkopf ended his life in his room on the top floor of the boarding house kept by Mrs. A. Crawford No. 65 Park Avenue, yesterday.

Standing before a mirror, Wolkopf placed a duelling pistol to his right temple and fired. This was about 11 o'clock in the morning, and Kate McGovern, the chambermaid, who was in an adjoining apartment, ran into his room and found him lying upon the floor clad in his nightgown.

Dr. Buttschadt, of Bellevue Hospital, said death was instantaneous.

Mrs. Crawford said that Wolkopf had been at her house for two months and that in the course of conversation he had told her he had come recently from Brazil, where his wife and two children had died. He also led her to believe that he had invested money in mining stock, and there was nothing in the room to indicate that he had made such investment.

In his clothing was found a gold watch and $150 in money. His other possessions were in two bags, the tops of which were tied. They will not be opened until the friends whom he named in his letter are found.

Those to whom he referred were Mr. John H. Prentice, No. 36 Broad Street, and Honore Palmer, who lives at No. 3 West Thirty-seventh Street; Antonio Fontoura Xavier, the Brazilian consul general in New York, No. 4 West Fifty-ninth Street; and Mr. F. Palmer, the son of Mr. F. Palmer, of Chicago. Mr. Prentice was in Boston yesterday, and at the home of Mrs. Palmer it was said that he had gone to Brazil.

In the letter addressed to the authorities, which was written:

"I am going to commit suicide because life has become unbearable for me. I feel that every day is a torment. I have no friends, no family, no children and struggling with financial difficulties, I have not been able to get proper footing."

"Please inform the Brazilian minister, Mr. Antonio Fontoura Xavier, and Mr. John H. Prentice, No. 36 Broad Street, and Honore Palmer, Chicago, to whom I have been referred, under the heading, 'Some Dispositions,' was the following:

"The two bags separated contain some family remembrances. I wish them to be sent to the addresses affixed on them, one for Germany, through the German Consulate, the other one through the Brazilian Legation."

"All other things to be sold and money, with balance, retained in the 25th Avenue Hotel. Another letter, which was not opened by the police, was directed to his brother, the Wolkopf, Kiel, Germany, as was also one of the bags. Coroner Goldenkranz viewed the bodies and directed that the bodies should be cared for until the friends should be found.

ONE HUNDRED BODIES FROM TRAIN WRECK

(By Associated Press.)
MADRID, June 29.—By midnight one hundred bodies had been extricated from the wreck of the Bilbao train, which was derailed Saturday night from a bridge into the Nervion River and it is estimated that seventy others remain in the wreckage. The bodies are horribly mutilated.

FAINTED AS WIFE LEAPED TO DEATH

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 29.—Suddenly seized with a fit of insanity, Mrs. Mary Baites threw herself in front of an elevated train at the One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street station at 6 A. M. today. She was killed. She had been conversing with other members of a party of twenty, all of whom were returning from a house warming party.

The party had ascended the platform and were awaiting for a southbound train, when the woman's husband, Lewis, fell in a faint. Others in the party carried him to a bench and revived him.

In incoherent words the husband said he had seen his wife leap in front of a train just about to start down town. The cars were backed and wedged between two sleepers the mutilated body of Mrs. Baites was found. Her right hand was severed, her neck broken, and her body badly crushed. Death must have been instantaneous.

The woman's husband said that she had been mentally deranged for some time, but had recently been discharged from an institution as cured. Tenants in the house at No. 209 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, where she lived, said yesterday that for several days Mrs. Baites had acted queerly.

MYSTERIOUS KILLING

Two Men Dying as Result of Fight.

TELL DIFFERENT STORIES

Boys Say Trouble Arose at Ball Game. Wounded Man Says He Was Hit With a Lather's Hatchet.

Joseph Deagan, of No. 326 Robbins Avenue, the Bronx, is dying in the Lincoln Hospital from injuries received in a fight on Saturday evening in "Tohn's Field." One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Street, and Robbins Avenue. Although two men were injured in the fight and it took place in open daylight, the police did not hear of it until yesterday morning.

The other man injured is Henry Albert, of No. 453 Brook Avenue. Deagan was rendered unconscious, his skull was broken, and he has several cuts on the scalp and face. Albert was badly cut about the face, head and hands. Both men are under police guard in the hospital, and are charged with disorderly conduct.

The stories of the fight differ. Mrs. Anna Deagan, mother of Joseph, told the police she had been out walking with her son, and when near their home he told her he was going over to "Tohn's Field" to buy a pair of shoes. He started to walk across the field. After he had been gone a few minutes her attention was attracted by a shout, and she saw several young men fighting. She succeeded in separating the fighters, but not until her son had been badly beaten.

A crowd collected, and with the assistance of friends she carried her son to the Lincoln Hospital. She said her son had been accosted by some young men who had been drinking beer in the lot.

About fifteen minutes after Deagan had been taken to the hospital, Albert was walked in and asked to be treated. According to George Albert, Henry's brother, Henry was assaulted by Deagan, who, he alleges, struck him with a lather's hatchet. In proof of his assertion he shows lacerated fingers, the wounds having been received in warding off a blow. Albert says Deagan slipped and fell and struck his head on a rock.

Several boys, who say they saw the fight, said last night that a ball game was in progress in the field. Deagan was in the home base of the team, and Albert was pitching for the other side. When Albert's team was at bat, Henry knocked a grounder and ran to first base. The ball was thrown to Deagan. Deagan claimed that Albert was hit by a ball.

Mrs. Crawford claimed that he had gained the bag. A dispute followed, but it was settled for time being and the game went on.

The boys say that after the game Albert went over to Deagan and asked him to shake hands. Deagan put out his left hand. Then, it is alleged, he put his hand to his hip pocket and drew something with which he struck Albert. Other players sprang at Deagan and threw him to the ground. The boys who told this story would not give their names, saying that they did not care to get mixed up in the case.

The police of the Alexander Avenue Station did not learn of the fight until Mrs. Deagan told them of it.

The doctors at the Lincoln Hospital said last night that they expected Deagan's death at any hour.—New York World.

WAR IMMINENT IN BALKAN STATES

Bulgarian Premier Admits that Situation Looks Very Serious at Present.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, June 30.—The Belgrade correspondent of the Times says that the Bulgarian Premier has given an interview in which he declared that the Sultan of Turkey and the Bulgarian Government were both opposed to war, but the situation was so serious that they were both delivery of the Turkish note last spring.

M. Petroff anticipates a war and expresses contempt for the Turkish army, which he says cannot mobilize inside of two months, whereas Bulgaria can mobilize an army of 250,000 well armed men very quickly. It is possible, he thinks, that the Sultan, in order to avert a war, may make concessions, but unless he does so a catastrophe is imminent.

INCREASE GRATIFYING

Thousands of New Industries Started in the South.

EVERY LINE OF ENDEAVOR

Over Two Hundred Wood-Working Plants Alone Started Within the Last Quarter—Record Testimonial of Steady Growth.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CINCINNATI, June 29.—The Trademark record of the industrial growth of the south for the second quarter of the year 1903 shows a most gratifying increase over the corresponding period last year.

During the second quarter of 1903, in the thirteen Southern States according to the tables compiled by The Trademark at that time, there were 1,164 new industries. The tables for the second quarter of 1902, just ended, give a total of 1,346 new industries for the same thirteen States, or an increase of 172 over the second quarter last year.

Among the most important new industries launched during the past quarter were 24 wood-working plants, 127 mines and quarries, 81 cotton and woolen mills, 31 brick and tile works, 28 tanning factories, 92 cooperages, 18 electric light and power companies, 61 flour and grist mills, 7 gas and oil companies, 73 oil mills and refineries, 31 iron working plants and other large concerns that are using and developing the natural products of the South.

In the list for the past quarter there are 247 miscellaneous industries in addition to the classified ones. These miscellaneous industries include:

Bottling works, laundries, mattress factories, saddlery and harness factories, irrigation plants, medicine factories, naval stores companies, button factories, construction companies, paint factories, roof plants, cement works, stone works, lime works, potteries, broom factories, packing plants, trunk factories, sewer pipe works, hat factories, electrical supply plants, asphalt plants, creosote works, starch factories, etc.

The wonderful development of oil fields can be traced to Louisiana, with twenty-four new natural gas and oil companies. Texas was twenty-eight, Kentucky with six, Tennessee with five, and other States scattering.

In the establishment of new flour and grist mills Tennessee leads with seventeen. Tennessee is also in the front rank in new wood-working plants, showing thirty-one for the quarter. While the record of Mississippi, the next in number, is twenty-four, in iron working plants Alabama leads the Southern States for the quarter with Texas second and Tennessee third.

Of the thirty-eight new telephone companies established during the quarter, ten were in Texas, eight in Georgia and five each in Virginia and West Virginia. Louisiana furnished three new railroads and Texas one.

West Virginia furnished three of the new distilleries, with one new distillery and no new brewery for Kentucky.

It is also interesting to note that Arkansas put in nineteen of the sixty-six cotton gins and compresses reported, being more than any other State.

The record for the quarter is a most emphatic testimonial to the steady growth of the South, and which every citizen of the thirteen States represented has abundant reason for being proud.

MAINTAINS INNOCENCE
Barrington Admits that the Future Looks Dark for Him.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Closely guarded in a cell of the St. Louis county jail at Clayton, eight miles west of this city, F. Seymour Barrington, charged with the murder of James P. McCan, on the night of April 18th, spent the greater part of the day under close questioning. He maintained a comparatively calm demeanor, and while he admitted that the future looked dark for him, he stoutly declared his innocence of the alleged crime.

One arrest was made to-day in connection with the case. Asa E. Mitchell, agent of a water company, was taken into custody upon suspicion that he knew something in connection with the alleged murder. He admitted that he was a friend of Barrington, and that at the latter's instigation he wrote a note which was shown to Mrs. McCan, for the purpose of allaying her fears regarding her husband's prolonged absence.

One of the Many Thousand Homes Where Pe-ru-na is the Family Medicine.

[Many Women Have Catarrh and Do Not Know It.]

WE DO NOT NEED A DOCTOR AS LONG AS WE HAVE PERUNA

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. F. Desaulmiers, 341 Dorchester Street, Montreal, Canada, writes:

"Pe-ru-na is of untold blessing to women. Pe-ru-na builds up the entire system and makes you well. I have the greatest faith in it, for I have never yet found it to fail. I either my family or myself in time of sickness. I have known it to cure cases of chronic catarrh and stomach troubles of long standing. We do not need a doctor as long as we have Pe-ru-na."—Mrs. F. Desaulmiers.

For the most acute cases of dyspepsia and the most chronic and stubborn cases of catarrh of the stomach Pe-ru-na is an unfailing cure.

Mrs. E. E. Gaston, of Milton, Iowa, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, says: "My wife has been sick with stomach trouble for almost three years."

"During that time we doctored with three of the best doctors in this part of the country, but they did her no good. She fell off her feet from 134 pounds to 80 pounds, and was unable to do anything; in fact, was confined to her bed a good part of the time. Everything she ate she would throw up, even water. The last doctor we had examined her, and said she had cancer of the stomach, and said he could do her no good except to give her something to relieve the pain, and that he would not advise us to have an operation performed. This coming from one whom I have always had great confidence in, you cannot imagine my feelings and thoughts."

"It was then we decided to quit doctoring and try Pe-ru-na, and from the beginning it helped her. She is now able to do all the housework. She is gaining in flesh, and I think will soon be back to her former weight."

"To make a long story short, we owe her life to Pe-ru-na, for I am satisfied had we not tried it she would now be in the grave."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Christian Scientists Visit Mrs. Eddy's Home.

SHE MAKES AN ADDRESS
Quotes the Words of Isaiah, "And the Ransomed of the Lord Shall Return and Come Unto Zion."

(By Associated Press.)
CONCORD, N. H., June 29.—Christian Scientists to the number of 32,000, 15,000 assembled here to-day in response to the invitation of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy to visit her home. The invitation was received by the communicants of the mother church in Boston yesterday at the annual communion service.

Mrs. Eddy received her visitors at Pleasant View, her home. She spoke to the assembled throng from the balcony, bidding them welcome to Concord and wishing them a pleasant journey to their homes. As she retired to the house the visitors sang two hymns, composed by Mrs. Eddy, and she appeared at a window and waved her handkerchief in farewell.

Mrs. Eddy in her address said:
